The Christian Family

The family is the basic unit of society.

Christianity offers the individual, the family, and society many benefits.

The quality of the individuals in a family affects the family and society as a whole.

Certain life tasks help the individuals in a family strengthen themselves, their families, and society.

Some of these essential life tasks are:

1. Becoming a self-accepting person.
2. Accepting responsibility for one's life.
3. Making our lives an act of love. (Matthew 22:36-40)
4. The act of stretching by stepping out of our comfort zones.
5. Learning to be "goodfinders".
6. Seeking growth not perfection.

Ideally, our temporal, earthly family will reflect, to some extent, the family of God known as the Church, and that eternal family of God existing in Heaven. 1 John 3:1 reminds us that we are called "children of God".

Eben Gilbert
